

THIEVING TELLER MOTORS WITH BRIDE

William Phipps, Jenkintown, Who Robbed Bank, Maintains Indifferent Attitude

PAINTS FATHER'S GARAGE

William Phipps, Jr., twenty-year-old clerk in the Jenkintown National Bank, who is at liberty under $2500 bail on a charge of stealing $4683 from the bank May 23, spent today painting his father's garage and motoring with his bride.

The further charge of arson, which he is likely to face in the Montgomery County courts for having started a fire in the basement of the bank to cover up the alleged theft, fails to have much effect on his care-free manner.

He was up bright and early this morning and after a hearty breakfast started to paint the garage. Shortly after, his wife, who insists that she will stand by her husband, arrived from her home in Abington and both went for an automobile ride.

Neither would talk about their affairs, nor would Mrs. Phipps discuss her mother's attitude, which, it is said, has changed considerably since she learned her son-in-law had been accused of robbery.

Two years ago young Phipps was graduated from the Abington High School. In his class was Miss Mary A. Morrow, one of the most popular girls along Old York road, and his sweetheart for several years. Her lithe figure, pretty face and above all her refined appearance and joviality had made her much sought after by the younger set.

"Was Billy Phipps for Her" But she had eyes for none except "Billy" Phipps, son of William Phipps, a highly respected carpenter, of Willow Grove, with old-fashioned ideas. Take a week "Billy" was allowed to visit Abington, only a short distance from his home, and attend a party or dance with the girl he had studied with. And all the while neighbors of the Morgrows, who lived near them on figure road, watched the romance develop.

Following his graduation, Phipps was given a position in the bank, obtained through his grandfather, Arnold A. Phipps, a wealthy resident of Willow Grove. And for two years he could be seen by depositors diligently working over his accounts, steadily forging ahead.

Then it was just December—the couple visited New York and were married. No one knew the joyous secret that culminated their childhood romance until two weeks ago, when, unable to longer endure the fate that forced them to live separately, they announced their marriage.

Both families were overjoyed and during the interim—until the youthful bride-groom could provide a home of their own—they would live at the pretty little cottage of Mrs. Morrow.

Paid $600 Down on Home "Billy" Phipps was succeeding in his endeavors to make his attractive bride's dreams of happiness come true. He

THIEVING BANK TELLER AND HOME

William Phipps, Jr., paid $600 down on this house on Old York road, near Edge Hill, with money he stole from Jenkintown Bank paid $600 down on a small but neat house on Edge Hill road above Old York road, outfitted his bride in keeping with her usual mode of living, and purchased a small automobile.

Every one knew the younger Phipps wasn't earning a salary sufficient to cover such lavish expenditures. But wasn't his grandfather wealthy? Then the blow came like a thunder-clap. The report spread that "Billy" Phipps had stolen nearly $5000 from the bank that had implicit faith in his habits, and, even worse, he had committed arson.

The persons who had watched him grow up to manhood were dumfounded and stunned. They wonder what effect the husband's arrest is going to have on his bride.

At the hearing before United States Commissioner Manly yesterday, Phipps was not the old "Billy," known for his gentle manners. He had changed considerably. Throughout the brief proceedings his demeanor was entirely matter of fact and unexcited, with just a trace of resentment that, strangely enough, seemed to be directed against the girl who will suffer most from his arrest.

Throughout the formality of furnishing ball the bride of only six months ago sat in the small front parlor of her mother's home and wept bitterly.

Following his graduation, Phipps was given a position in the bank, obtained through his grandfather, Arnold A. Phipps, a wealthy resident of Willow Grove. And for two years he could be seen by depositors diligently working over his accounts, steadily forging ahead.

Then it was just December—the couple visited New York and were married. No one knew the joyous secret that culminated their childhood romance until two weeks ago, when, unable to longer endure the fate that forced them to live separately, they announced their marriage.

Both families were overjoyed and during the interim—until the youthful bride-groom could provide a home of their own—they would live at the pretty little cottage of Mrs. Morrow.

Paid $600 Down on Home "Billy" Phipps was succeeding in his endeavors to make his attractive bride's dreams of happiness come true. He paid $600 down on a small but neat house on Edge Hill road above Old York road, outfitted his bride in keeping with her usual mode of living, and purchased a small automobile.

Every one knew the younger Phipps wasn't earning a salary sufficient to cover such lavish expenditures. But wasn't his grandfather wealthy? Then the blow came like a thunder-clap. The report spread that "Billy" Phipps had stolen nearly $5000 from the bank that had implicit faith in his habits, and, even worse, he had committed arson.

The persons who had watched him grow up to manhood were dumfounded and stunned. They wonder what effect the husband's arrest is going to have on his bride.

At the hearing before United States Commissioner Manly yesterday, Phipps was not the old "Billy," known for his gentle manners. He had changed considerably. Throughout the brief proceedings his demeanor was entirely matter of fact and unexcited, with just a trace of resentment that, strangely enough, seemed to be directed against the girl who will suffer most from his arrest.

Throughout the formality of furnishing ball the bride of only six months ago sat in the small front parlor of her mother's home and wept bitterly.

Following his graduation, Phipps was given a position in the bank, obtained through his grandfather, Arnold A. Phipps, a wealthy resident of Willow Grove. And for two years he could be seen by depositors diligently working over his accounts, steadily forging ahead.

Then it was just December—the couple visited New York and were married. No one knew the joyous secret that culminated their childhood romance until two weeks ago, when, unable to longer endure the fate that forced them to live separately, they announced their marriage.

Both families were overjoyed and during the interim—until the youthful bride-groom could provide a home of their own—they would live at the pretty little cottage of Mrs. Morrow.

Paid $600 Down on Home "Billy" Phipps was succeeding in his endeavors to make his attractive bride's dreams of happiness come true. He paid $600 down on a small but neat house on Edge Hill road above Old York road, outfitted his bride in keeping with her usual mode of living, and purchased a small automobile.

Every one knew the younger Phipps wasn't earning a salary sufficient to cover such lavish expenditures. But wasn't his grandfather wealthy? Then the blow came like a thunder-clap. The report spread that "Billy" Phipps had stolen nearly $5000 from the bank that had implicit faith in his habits, and, even worse, he had committed arson.

The persons who had watched him grow up to manhood were dumfounded and stunned. They wonder what effect the husband's arrest is going to have on his bride.

'HAVING GOOD TIME,' WRITES MISSING BOY FROM MEXICO

Mother Refuses to Send Money in Response to Request for Funds "Am in Tia Juana, Mexico, tending soda fountain. Having good time. Send me money to get home."

This was the postcard that Mrs. Sarah Barelay, 5014 Walnut street, received from her sixteen-year-old son Richard today. The boy had been missing from home three months and detectives had been trying to locate him ever since his disappearance.

"If he's having a good time he doesn't need money," was the comment of his mother. "I am glad to know that he is not dead. He knows that if he really needs money he can get it, but I don't believe he is in want."

GIRL TO "SEE NEW YORK" IN SPITE OF ROBBERY

Miss Verna Lynch, Mahanoy City, Loses Money and Bag in Terminal Theft of her traveling bag, filled with clothing, her pocketbook with all her money and a fur neckpiece while she took a short nap in waiting for a train in the Reading Terminal last night, failed to stop Verna Lynch, nineteen of Mahanoy City, who has set out to "see New York."

When the girl found her belongings gone she immediately told the special officer in the station and then went to the Detective Bureau in City Hall. She told the detectives that she was going to New York anyway, and left an address of 334 East Twenty-ninth street, New York, where she will visit friends. She said she would stop on her way back to see if her stolen things had been recovered.

A girl companion of Mahanoy City is accompanying Miss Lynch to New York. The stolen articles were valued at $200.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT

The Municipal Band will play tonight on Howard street above Diamond.

LET us suggest a slogan or trade-mark for your goods. It will be a good investment.

THE HOLMES PRESS, Printers 1315-29 Cherry Street Philadelphia

It's a Miller Box! THE marketing eye is sensitive to the beauty of the box carrying your new specialty.

WALTER P. MILLER CO., INC. 448-452 York Ave., Phila. Manufacturers of SPECIAL PAPER BOXES

A Dresser That "Dresses" the Kitchen

The house revolves around the kitchen—and the kitchen in the John H. McClatchy homes, one block from the Market Street Elevated at 69th street, revolves around this unique and artistic Dresser. No builder in any city has in his homes so unusual a Dresser. It is designed and made exclusively by us in our own mill.

It is only one of very many unusual things that make these homes different from any you have ever seen. Come out today and give yourself a treat.

JOHN H. McCLATCHY BUILDER OF HOMES Office at operation, 69th Street opposite Market Street Elevated Terminal. Open Evenings. Phone Belmont 7423

If you want to extend your market and you make good merchandise to sell at a fair profit, it will pay you to know

The BIDDLE AGENCY ADVERTISING 129 North 12th Street, Philadelphia

MacDonald & Campbell Coolest Knickerbockers

White and Tan Linen	$5.50 to $8.50
White, Tan, Gray Linen Crash	$5.50 to $8.50
White and Tan Gabardine	$5.00 to $8.50
Palm Beach—Tan, Sand, Gray	$5.50
Khaki	$4.00

Outing Trousers

White Flannel Trousers	$10.00 to $15.00
Outing Trousers	$8.00 to $13.50
White Duck and Khaki Trousers	$8.00
White and Tan Linen Trousers	$5.00 to $7.00

The famous MacDonald & Campbell specialties—absolutely unequalled in correctness, tailoring and service.

SEPARATE NORFOLK SPORT COATS, $18.00 AND $20.00
1334-1336 Chestnut Street

SUE OWNER OF DEATH BUS

Relatives of Louis Crowder, Killed in Accident, Ask $25,000 A suit for $25,000 damages was filed in the New Jersey Supreme Court today against Charles H. Horner, an autobus owner, of Fairview, by relatives of Louis Crowder, who was killed May 16 when Horner's bus overturned.

ADMINISTRATION PRAISED

Northwest Business Men Approve Repaving Program of City The proposed repaving of seventy-five miles of streets at a cost of $5,000,000 was commended in a letter to Council today by the Northwest Business Men's Association.

Look—and Look Hard

You can't look around at other good stores too much to please us. The more you shop around the better you'll like the fine quality of our Super-Values. This big progressive store has two floors filled to overflowing with clothes of fine quality—all selling under our Super-Value Policy, which means an actual saving to you in dollars and cents.

PERRY'S Over 2000 Palm Beach Suits Perfect in even the smallest details. All sizes up to 52 inches. Our Super-Value Prices $14.50 and $17

Silky MOHAIRS Fine Quality TROPICAL WORSTEDS Rich in finish, perfect in cut, cool looking and comfortable. Shoulders silk-lined with feather-weight silk. A wonderful variety of patterns and colorings. All richly trimmed with silk. Two-piece suits—and some with vests. Sizes up to 52 chest. Our Super-Value Prices $18 and $20 $25 and $28

Perry salesmen are far-sighted enough to know that the good customer is the one who returns—and that the returning customer is the one who is pleased.

PERRY & CO. 16th and Chestnut SUPER-VALUES in Clothes for Men

(c) 1922, P. & Co.

LOCOMOBILE

THE last word in de luxe road travel, the strongest and safest car America has ever produced, second to none in the world. It was never finer than now—highly perfected, up to the minute in every small detail. It carries a unique Guarantee, proving the economy of its excellence. It will be kept in the lead by the men who made it famous, and who have dedicated themselves to its perfection, working on their old policy of limited production to insure the highest quality.

THE LOCOMOBILE COMPANY Philadelphia Branch 2330 Market Street

JACOB REED'S SONS 1424-1426 Chestnut Street

Won by a length—Many of our best shirt customers! All sleeve lengths in the popular sizes!

Keep cool! Rogers Peet two-piece (vestless) suits.

FERRO & COMPANY Rogers Peet Clothes Chestnut St. at Juniper

Auto Distributor

A factory well financed, with over 400 cars in Philadelphia now, is open with a proposition for a well-financed distributor. You can with this line make as high as $75,000 a year net profit on this popular-priced car. Address Sales Manager, A 231, Ledger Office.

AN AGENT should be consulted before you are ready to advertise.

The right package or trademark, and how to distribute, are vital questions in which the advertising man should sit in conference with your sales department. HERBERT M. MORRIS Advertising Agency Every Phase of Sales Promotion North American Bldg. Philadelphia

Desperate Men

ALMOST every morning the newspapers report the use of the old-fashioned, death-dealing black jack. Thieves use the black jack to overcome means of defense other than Holmes Electric Protection, which cannot be black-jacked.

Where there is Holmes there is safety

HOLMES ELECTRIC PROTECTION

11th & Sansom Streets Philadelphia Bell-Walnut 2011 Keystone—Main 8030

UNUSUAL PATTERNS IN SPORT SUITS

Two, three and four piece suits of more than ordinary distinction. Tweeds, plaids and over-plaids attractive mixtures, etc. Excellent for the links.

COMPLETE LINEN KNICKERS Special at 4.35

GOLF SPECIALTY SHOP 40 SOUTH 17TH. Complete Line of Furnishings Everything for Golfers

BOUGHT—SOLD—QUOTED

Boston & New York Air Line R. R. Co. 1st Mtg. 4s, 1955 (Guaranteed Principal & Interest by New York, New Haven & Hartford To Yield 5.70% Southern Indiana Railway Co. 1st Mtg. 4s, 1951 (Guaranteed Principal & Interest by Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R. Co.) To Yield 5.80% Chicago, Terre Haute & Southwestern Railway Co. 1st & Ref. 5s, 1960 (Guaranteed Principal & Interest by Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R. Co.) To Yield 6.40% McCown & Co. LAND TITLE BUILDING PHILADELPHIA PA. Members Philadelphia Stock Exchange